Appomattox County Library

THE LIGHT IN THE SWAMP –Velda Johnston –The author offers one of her more believeable mystery - suspense tales in this story of Catherine, a widow with a child, who returns to her aunt's house and soon realizes she is not wanted there. Her uncle's insolence,pointing out her son's defects, keeps ever in mind the unforgotten World War II dead.

CALICO PALACE – Gwen Bristow – A historical novel filled with romance and colorful characters. It happens during the Sutter's Fort goldrush when Kendra Logan and her husband, Ted Parks, embark on a gold - mining expedition to the Rockies . Danger and destruction follow this couple even after their return to San Francisco.

FIRST ON THE MOON – Neil Armstrong–The exclusive story of the astronauts' adventures based on their personal experiences as well as a recounting of the past ten years and the hundreds of thousands of individuals who made this trip possible. Also included are the families of the astronauts and their feelings regarding the experience.

NO TIME FOR LOVE –Emile Loring –A cosmopolitan world of high fashion and international narcotics smuggling sets the state for this exciting and suspense - filled story. Princess Sobelli and her Sobelli Cosmetics, Inc. are rumored to be in financial trouble, and at the same time, she had been the victim of a jewel theft, thought to be an "inside" job.

THE KENNEDY WOMEN – Pearl S. Buck –Miss Buck has compared the Kennedy women to a similar family in China, where each woman was motivated by a strong, brilliant and ambitious man and whose strength lasted for three generations. She writes of Rose, Rosemary, Kathleen, Eunice, Jean, Joan, Ethel, Patricia, Jacqueline, and Caroline, isolating their main qualities.

STORY TIME– 1 to 2 p.m. on Tuesday afternoons, Oct. 20, Nov. 3, 17, & Dec. 1, 15, & 29.

Job Specialties In Marines

USMC Recruiting Station, Richmond – For the first time in recent Marine Corps history, certain enlistees are being offered guaranteed job specialties upon enlistment, Marine Corps Recruiting Officials said today.

Under the new program, qualified enlistees now will be guaranteed training in selected occupational fields following completion of recruit and advanced training.

Among the occupations being offered to highly qualified applicants are career training in computers, telecommunications, electronics, finance,personnel and administration.

Previously, the Marine Corps offered guaranteed training to qualified applicants upon enlistment in the broad realm of aviation only.

Enlistees under the new program receive either formal schooling or on-the-job training in their guaranteed business or professional fields following basic military training.

Marine recruiting officials said the overall number of men enlisted under the program will depend upon the needs of the Marine Corps at any given time.

The guaranteed occupational enlistments are expected to be highly - competitive, and only those applicants best qualified will be selected for the new program, they said.

Majority of enlistees in the Marine Corps will continue to be assigned job specialties according to the individual's ability, testing during training, and needs of the Corps, Marine recruiting officials said.

Complete information on the new program can be obtained from Marine Corps Recruiting Sub-Station, Room 311 Post Office Building, Lynchburg, Va., 24505.

HEALTH CAREER PROGRAM TO BE PRESENTED

Helping students make the right career choice and stimulating interest in the health field is the dual purpose of the assembly program which will be presented by Virginia Health Careers to Central Va. Health Services Development Council on Mon., Oct. 5, 1970 at 8 p.m., Auditorium, Virginia Baptist Hospital. The public is invited.

The assembly will focus on one of two motivational soundslide presentations titled "Life" and "A Time For Every Season". Both programs describe over forty health careers, and relate that this is one field where youth has the opportunity to make a distinctive change in the lives of so many people. Guests will be given the chance to ask questions and to obtain further written information on any health career.
